

I usually try and wait a couple of weeks between "Campaign Update" emails, but sometimes an event is significant enough in and of itself to justify a quick "Special Update." This past week I was endorsed by two enormously important organizations, SEIU Local 32BJ and the Grand Council of Hispanic Societies in Public Service.

SEIU Local 32BJ represents over 60,000 building service workers in New York City. It is one of the City's most dynamic, progressive and politically potent unions. Not only does 32BJ deliver for its members at the bargaining table, 32BJ is at the forefront of today's critical social and economic issues, from fighting for real immigration reform to ensuring a living wage for working people. And they know how to hit the streets come campaign time. I couldn't be prouder to have their support.

Here I am at the Citywide immigration reform rally at City Hall with Local 32BJ rally organizers.

The Grand Council is the voice of tens of thousands of Hispanic public servants in such agencies as the NYC Fire Department, the NYC Departments of Corrections, Parks, Sanitation and Transportation, the Taxi & Limousine Commission, and the NYC Housing Authority. The Grand Council not only fights for increased opportunities for Hispanics within public service, but is an important advocate for better pensions, better healthcare and better working conditions for all public servants. Their endorsement is highly coveted, and I am thrilled to have won it.

Here I am accepting the Grand Council's endorsement in front of my alma mater, Parson Junior High School. On my right is Grand Council president Debra Martinez.
